

Barden purchases building for future cable TV offices

If Councilman William Wadsworth had waited 24-hours he would have learned that Barden Cablevision is moving toward making cable TV a reality in Romulus.

Monday night the first term city councilman expressed concerns "that Barden has not called me back, or anyone from his company. I have some concerns about the progress of cable in our city."

"And those concerns also have been expressed to me by several other citizens. Is he (Barden) doing anything? Where are we with this?" Wadsworth asked.

Mayor Beverly McAnally responded that there "is activity going on and that they (Barden) have been here. In fact, they have purchased the old Manufacturer's National Bank building on Huron River Drive and will begin extensive renovations to that building once approval is given."

Mayor McAnally also pointed (See CABLE TV Page 3)

Coming attraction

City Hall officials and representatives from Barden Cablevision met last week to discuss the cablevision company's plans for constructing the city's system. During the dialogue, John Barden (second from right) revealed to Mayor Beverly McAnally that the cable TV firm has purchased a vacant bank building for the future home of the firm's Romulus operations. On hand for the announcement are Dave Paul (at left), Building Director for the city, and Rod Church (at right), regional director of operations for

Cheese, honey are available to needy families

Romulus senior citizens should circle the following time and date— 1 p.m., Monday, Jan. 30.

That's when federal surplus cheese and honey will be distributed to eligible recipients at the Romulus Senior Citizens Drop-In Center. Recipients are asked to bring proper identification with them.

Those who will be receiving the cheese and honey for the first time must provide documentation of financial status. Among those who qualify are persons who are presently receiving food stamps, medicaid or low income households and Aid to Dependent children.

For further information, contact the city or Drop-In Center.

Bergeron picked for PCHA

City Council Monday night named councilman Peter Bergeron as the city's representative to the Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority.

The council moved to fill a vacancy created by the recent resignation of former PCHA representative, Edmund Bizek.

Perfect record abruptly broken

Streaks are made to be broken, the saying goes. And councilman Barry Baumann's perfect attendance record came to an abrupt end on January 3 when he became a "no show" for the first time in over two years.

What happened?

"You wouldn't believe it," commented councilman Baumann, "so I better not comment."

Deputy clerk is named

The search for a Deputy Clerk ended this week as Romulus City Clerk Linda R. Choate named Ronald Dick to fill the position.

Mrs. Choate introduced the new deputy clerk to council Monday night. Council approved the appointment.

Nice fishing

What do you need for an ice fishing expedition at Belleville Lake? Warm gloves, an auger (to bore the hole), and, of course, some cooperative fish. Area resident Art Antil was one of about two dozen hooked on the sport last Thursday afternoon. For a close-up look at the adventurous anglers, see Page 2

State Police to probe sale of city scrap iron

Romulus Safety Director Donald Flood has invited the State Police to investigate any wrong doing in the sale of scrap iron by city employees.

Several city employees have come under fire recently for selling scrap iron that they have picked up off the roads. The employees sold the iron to a Wayne scrap iron dealer and turned the approximately $300 over to the Treasurer's Office.

The money was used for the city's annual Christmas Party, according to city officials.

At Monday night's City Council meeting, Harry Nelson, a resident, asked the council and administration to confirm that the State Police is conducting the investigation.

"There is a lot of talk about an internal police investigation into the sale of the scrap iron and that the State Police has entered this case. We would like to know what it's all about," Nelson informed council.

Mayor Beverly McAnally confirmed the rumor that the state police had been called in to investigate.

"Chief Flood wanted an impartial body to conduct the investigation," Mayor McAnally said, "and that is why the State Police has been invited in. We wanted to take this out of the realm of politics and the state police can investigate this case without any cost to the city."

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry welcomed the investigation.

"We may be opening up a barrel of worms, but I want this thing cleared up once and for all. The City Charter specifically states that no one has the right to sell city property without council approval. There is a legal basis for clearing the air."

Nelson interrupted to say that he thought the funds were used for a municipal Christmas Party. Raspberry replied, "That may be true, but the public and the taxpayers were not invited."

Councilman William Wadsworth, who is a member of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, questioned whether the State Police could conduct an impartial investigation.

"I want it to be understood that I'm not questioning anyone's integrity or ability, but isn't there some sort of conflict of interest here, after all, Chief Flood spend a long time with the State Police."

Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks countered with: "I am not concerned. These people (State Police) are excellent and I know they will do a good job."

Contacted by phone, Flood later said that he had no reservations at all to calling in the State Police.

"I believe that the State Police are a proven professional law enforcement agency that would conduct an impartial investigation into this case and would only be concerned with the facts."

Flood further added that the request for the investigation was made to a division (Second District Headquarters) of the State Police that he had no prior connection with.

City moves to repay interfund debts

Council approves first reading of ordinance

In order to get a clear picture of the City of Romulus's over-all finances, Finance Director Patsy Cantrell asked City Council Monday night to pass a proposed ordinance to utilize escrow funds in the water and sewer reserve and the water and sewer loan repayment escrows.

Council — with Jimmie Raspberry abstaining — approved the first reading of the ordinance with the stipulation that the finance director include a breakdown of how the accumulated funds in the Water and Sewer Reserve Escrow Account would be utilized.

There is $836,788.66 in the two accounts, according to figures supplied by Mrs. Cantrell.

"The city at this point is in a very stable financial position," noted Mrs. Cantrell, "but it is impossible to look the city's audited financial statements to get an accurate picture of the financial condition of a particular fund without an in-depth analysis of the interfund accounts and the ability of the funds repay that debt."

Mrs. Cantrell said that her main purpose Monday night was to calm any concerns and answer any questions council may have had regarding the necessity of repaying the interfund debt.

"As the situation stands at present, the water and sewer fund owes a number of other city funds. Council has established within the water and sewer funds an escrow and, in the past, previous councils had stipulated that the funds accumulated in the water and sewer escrow could be utilized only by council approval."

Specifically, Mrs. Cantrell presented the proposed ordinance to council whose approval is needed to free the escrow funds.

Raspberry abstained while councilmen Barry Baumann, Fred Junior Block, William Wadsworth, Pete Bergeron and Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann

Banks approved the first reading of the ordinance. The second reading will be conducted at the next regular meeting of council scheduled for January 23. Council councilman Alan Lambert was excused from the meeting.

Raspberry said he abstained "because I would rather see everything in writing before me, in black and white, before I pass a decision on what the finance director is proposing."

"My concern is that the use of money generated as water and sewer reserves will be spent on and for purposes that it wasn't intended for."

The proposed ordinance, in part, reads: "The City of Romulus, on the 7th day of July, 1977, provided a Water and Sewer Reserve Escrow Account, which was intended to set aside funds to defray unforeseen and, or emergency situations, which may threaten the financial stability of the city of Romulus..."

"And the city further provided for a Water and Sewer Loan Repayment Escrow Account, intended to accumulate funds for the repayment of the outstanding indebtedness of the Water and Sewer Department to the General Fund... and Council specifically provided when establishing the accounts, the funds accruing to

The fish weren't biting for Belleville resident Shannon Potter (above) last Thursday afternoon at Belleville Lake. But Wilbur Johnson (far right) caught eight fish in an hour and a half, to the envy of companions Peter Apostolos (middle) and Tony Harris. Belleville Enterprise reporter Eve Silberman literally had to tread on thin ice to get the story.

Anglers don't let ice stop them

By EVE SILBERMAN
ANP Staff Writer

About three minutes after he landed Fish Number 7, Wilbur Johnson felt the now familiar — but still satisfying — tug on his line. Ten seconds later, a panting and surprised Fish Number 8 was resting on the iced-over Belleville Lake beside his fellow blue gills.

"Luck," grumbled Johnson's friend Tony Harris, a whiff of sour grapes just barely detectable. Fishing just three feet away from Johnson, Harris had made exactly one catch in the hour and a half Johnson netted his seven.

"It ain't luck," Johnson calmly corrected him. "You just got to have a feel for this."

In bright colored parkas and scarves, about 20 zealous fishermen decidedly had a "feel" for ice fishing last Thursday afternoon. Carrying the essentials of fishing gear, portable heaters, and six-packs, the men dotted the frozen east shore of the lake (just off the I-94 service drive).

While the 20 degree weather didn't disconcert the anglers, many of whom recalled zero below expeditions, things can still get a bit nippy after three hours of peering down a tiny hole in the ice.

"I sure wish it worked," n said Belleville resident Shannon Potter, 20, of his portable heater which, at the moment, was only living up to the "portable" part of its name. "You start to get the shivers, just sitting here waiting."

His second day out on the ice, Potter had a simple answer for why he was out there. "Trying to catch a fish."

Has he had any luck?

"No, but you don't know till you try."

Perched on a bucket, his breath emerging in little snatches of fog, Potter acknowledged: "I like doing this in summer much better."

Not everyone agreed. "This is much more fun in winter," said Harris, from Lincoln Park. "You can visit people, pass around your beer. In summer, it's just you on a boat."

A self-acclaimed expert at "fishing and freezing," Harris rattled off, to a less than expert reporter, some secrets of the trade. Times to fish: "Morning and late afternoon — that's when they're out." Bait: "Wax worms. For some reason, they won't bite the real thing in winter." Location: "You want to find a spot where the ice is from half a foot to 20 inches deep. Now some people try their luck when the ice is only two inches deep, but I wouldn't recommend that."

Breaking through thin ice didn't concern the anglers as much as the possibility of having their cars, parked above them on the shoulder of the expressway service drive, towed.

"Last year, the police were towing 'em right and left," said one man, casting a wary eye upward. "This year, they seem to be leaving us alone. We're very grateful."

While a few anglers matched Wilbur Johnson's record of almost ten in two hours, many people had at least one or two edible souvenirs of their long wait on the ice. "You go because you're a sportsman," said Tony Harris, shrugging aside his lone catch. "Besides, you get tired of just watching TV."

Romulus therapists picked to attend statewide convention

David Baker and James McCarthy, Clinical Director and Substance Abuse Therapist of the Romulus Help Center, respectively, have been awarded scholarships from the Michigan Office of Substance Abuse Services (OSAS) to attend the Midwest Institute of Alcohol Studies which began Monday at the Kalamazoo Center Hilton Inn.

Seventy-five Michigan residents received Midwest Institute scholarships from the Michigan Office of Substance Abuse Services which co-sponsors the training along with the other state alcoholism agencies in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. Approximately 350 persons from these four states will attend the Institute. More than 150 of the participants will be from Michigan.

The Midwest Institute of Alcohol Studies is an educational project which provides basic information on alcohol problems for professional people whose work brings them in contact with persons experiencing a drinking problem. Workshops focus on techniques for dealing with alcohol-related human problems and methods to promote better public understanding of alcoholism. All participants will receive a Certificate of Achievement upon successful completion of the five-day course.

This session marks the Tenth Annual Winter Midwest Institute. Summer sessions have been conducted annually for the past 29 years. Further information about the Institute is available by contacting: Margaret Bernhard, Executive Secretary to the Institute, Division of continuing Education, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Michigan 49008 or call (616) 383-0795.

Barden picks Romulus home

out that the recent news that Barden has teamed up with the mammoth media giant, MacLean Hunter of Toronto is "good news to Romulus because we can only benefit from the financial stability that company will offer."

In the meantime, Barden officials were in Romulus last Friday to negotiate the purchase of the vacant bank facility and turn it into their local cable TV headquarters. The building for the proposed cable TV offices and studios is located on Huron River

Drive at Northline Road in the southwest portion of the city. Barden Cable TV representatives Rod Church, regional general manager, and John Barden, regional operations and business manager, informed Mayor McAnally of the building purchase during a visit to City Hall to request building permits. "I'm pleased that a vacant building is being utilized," Mayor McAnally said, "and I'm pleased that Barden is making progress toward establishing a service to the community that has been long anticipated."

Barden has 18 months from the date that the permits are pulled to wire Romulus for cable TV.

Church and Barden also presented a site plan to Building Director David Paul and a request to appear before City Planning Commission. The purpose of the request is to get approval in the use of the building from banking to cable TV offices and studios.

After the City Planning Commission approves the request and the proper permits have been issued, Barden then may proceed remodeling the building. The site plan calls for the enclosure of the previous drive in the banking area and the addition of television antennas and satellite dishes.

Barden has 18 months from the date that the permits are pulled to wire Romulus for cable TV, according to the franchise agreement.

Future home of Barden Cable TV
This will be the future home of Barden Cable TV in Romulus. The old Manufacturer's National Bank building is located on Huron River Drive and will be extensively remodeled for the cable TV company's multi-purpose use.

City moves to repay debts

these accounts may not be dispersed, expended or otherwise utilized except by an ordinance duly adopted...
The concluding paragraph of the initial section reads, that "whereas, actual funding began as of December 30, 1977, and has accumulated as of this date, including interest, $836,788.66 in the two accounts, now therefore, be it resolved that by the City Council of the City of Romulus that it does herewith introduce an ordinance by Chapter VIII, Article 1.8."

The ordinance would provide for the appropriation of water and sewer reserve escrowed funds, and for escrowed water and loan repayment funds.
That ordinance would, upon council approval and publication in the official newspaper, provide for $603,118.49 of the fund to be used for the repayment of the water and sewer interfund debts and $233,670.17 be appropriated for utilization in the repayment of the water-sewer interfund debts.

Mrs. Cantrell told council that "the choices (to repay the interfund debts) were relatively few and that if council didn't act, eventually the State Treasury Department would in the form of telling us to repay those funds."
"We need the ordinance to free up the escrow funds and to disperse those monies properly," Cantrell said.

Rasperry said that he didn't like giving "anyone a blank check and therefore I want to see everything before me before I vote on this."

DPW director urges residents to keep cars off roads

As old man winter reeks his havoc upon Romulus, it presents for us concerns other than shoveling our sidewalks and getting to work on time.
One of the concerns, according to Romulus D.P.W. Director Robert Plank, is the plowing and removal of snow and ice from city streets which is hampered by on-street parking.
The City Ordinance states that if there is accumulation of three or more inches of ice or snow or a weather emergency is declared by the mayor, residents must remove their vehicles from city streets and highways.
Failure to do so could result in that vehicle being towed.

"The last thing we want to do is tow away somebody's vehicle," said Plank. "When we are plowing a street, we try to make an effort to find the owner of the vehicle so that they may remove it. Our plowing priorities are the main roads first, then the main school routes with subdivisions and side roads receiving the lowest priority."
Plank also expressed concerns over the occasional warming trend that causes occasional flooding.
"We are aware of where the problems exist and we make every effort to control the problem so that there is less inconvenience to the resident," he stated.

Armed Forces
Airman Kevin C. McCrory, son of David L. McCrory of 17925 Vining Road, Romulus, and Vivian R. Finch of 33700 Annapolis, Wayne, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.
He is a 1983 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School.

Eyesores City cracks down on old cars parked in driveways

If you have an old car in your driveway that you've been meaning to get running one of these years, you may find yourself getting acquainted with one of the City of Romulus' Ordinance Officers.
"We seem to have accumulated quite a few inoperable vehicles in this city," explained Tom Ellis, who holds the position of Director of Ordinances. "A lot of people mean well, but do not realized that that old junk car in the driveway or backyard can become a community eyesore and could also become a haven for rats."

According to City Ordinance Chapter 504, Section 3.01, "Inoperable Motor Vehicles are defined as motor vehicles which by reason of dismantling, disrepair or other cause, are incapable of being propelled under their own power, or are unsafe for operation on the streets and highways of this State because of inability to comply with the Uniform Motor Vehicle Code, or which is not licensed in compliance with the Uniform Motor Vehicle Code."

All owners of inoperable vehicles will be given a time period in which to dispose of or make that vehicle operable. Failure to comply could result in

Carrier of the Week Small business pays off huge dividends

David Wolf has taken on a small business venture in a big way.
The 13-year old has more than 195 customers on his Westland Eagle route, and manages to perform his appointed tasks so well, he has been selected as Carrier of the Week by the Associated Newspapers Circulation Department.
David is an eighth grade student at Marshall Junior High School and counts Spanish and chemistry as his favorite subjects. He is looking toward college and a career either as a doctor or veterinarian.
The carrier spends his leisure time building models, which he enjoys, but budgets his money so that most of his route proceeds go into the bank to save for a dreamed of car.
He has only one comment about out his weekly job and what makes it enjoyable — "the customers, they are really nice and friendly," he noted.

He obtained his route through a mail advertisement seeking a carrier in his area and has been the local Eagle paper boy for more than a year and a half. His advice to other carriers is simple — "put the paper where the customer wants it."
David is the son of Wayne and Faye Wolf and has been a Westland resident of Easley Street for more than 11 years.
Carriers of the Week are selected on the basis of performance and customer satisfaction. Nominations for the honor are accepted by Circulation Manager Bob Turon at 729-4000 during regular business hours.

Tests scheduled Are jail roads dangerous?

Pending a court decision on whether the Wayne County Jail Annex should be evacuated, the County Commission has authorized structural tests and temporary reinforcement of utility tunnels under service roads that Westland officials claim are potentially dangerous to their fire department.
Fearful that the roads and tunnels will not support crossing of heavy fire fighting equipment if necessary, city officials have asked the County Circuit Court to order evacuation of the 280 inmates at the annex. The case if before Judge James Hathaway, with no date yet for a hearing.
Costing $18,500 the temporary measures include a contract with an engineering firm for taking concrete and soil borings for later analysis, and immediate placement of heavy steel plates on roadways above the tunnels while the test samples are analyzed.

The measures were approved by the commission subsequent to a meeting of the Public Safety and Judiciary Committee, attended by both Westland Mayor Charles Pickering and Fire Chief Theodore Scott, although neither endorsed the plan.
Surveying and boring for the test samples should also be complete by mid-week.

Ex-student directs Romulus High band

Dr. Glenn Hayes, a former Romulus student, now a college band director, will return as a guest conductor on January 20.

Dr. Hayes will work with Romulus Junior High School symphonic band students at their performance for the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association at the 39th Mid-Western Conference on Vocal and Instrumental Music at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor.

Dr. Hayes is the Assistant Director of Bands at Bowling Green State University in Ohio, as well as the Director of the Marching Band and Coordinator for Student Teachers.

His career in music began in the 4th grade at Gordonier Elementary School where he studied the clarinet.

In Junior High under music instructor, Richard Kruse, he took up the oboe, and continued his study with then high school music instructor, Gideon Pettway, and studied privately with Dr. Florian Mueller of the University of Michigan.

Dr. Hayes graduated from Central Michigan University and taught music at Muskegon Catholic Central High School. While there, he led the Muskegon Catholic Central High School Band to its first appearance in the Michigan State Band Festival, and to its first ever First Division Rating in his second year.

After this early success in his career, Dr. Hayes was invited to join the Doctoral Program at Northwestern University, then appointed to the staff at Bowling Green University.

Bowling Green University has the 5th largest Music Education Program in the United States, giving Dr. Hayes a very influential position in the field of music education.

On a recent visit to the junior high, Dr. Hayes observed that the junior high school band had changed, for the better, since his junior high days. He feels that he would not have had the opportunity to achieve his success without the Romulus Community Schools instrumental music program.

Friends rally to help victims

Fire wipes out family's belongings

The new year continues to glow bright for a Sumpter Township couple despite a Christmas day fire that destroyed their home and all their possessions.

"People here have been so nice to us that we couldn't think about moving," said Charlotte Carrigan who, along with husband Bill and their two teen-age daughters, barely escaped with their lives in the early morning fire that gutted their home at 40829 Judd Road. The cause of the fire — which apparently began in the attic — is still under investigation.

The family is staying with "very special" neighbors Guy and Chris Tallman, though recently they received a specially approved permit from the Sumpter Township Board of Trustees to move into a temporary trailer. The kindness of friends old and new eased the shock of losing their home, say the couple.

"The Sumpter police and fire department really did their job," recalled Mrs. Carrigan. "The fire started at 4:27 and they were out there in three minutes. We were outside in 9 below zero weather in our nightgowns. The firemen got clothes for us — they asked what our sizes were."

"We're going to write a letter of thanks," added Mrs. Carrigan, who also noted that Red Cross volunteers arrived that Christmas morning with bags of groceries.

An employee of Con-Rail, Bill Carrigan said that the family discussed moving, at least temporarily, from the area.

"But I've lived here more than 20 years, and Sumpter's my home," he said. "There are real good people here. We're going to stay."

Tyler PTO to hold meeting

Tyler Road Elementary School P.T.O. of Belleville will hold its monthly meeting on Jan. 19, at 6:30 p.m. at the school. Speaker Mary Browe will give a presentation on Effective Parenting. Parents will also be entertained by the After School Ballet Class with a dance recital. The public is invited to attend.

Christmas Party was final one for GFWC Study Club

The annual Christmas party for members of the GFWC Belleville Junior Study Club, which was held December 21, at the home of member Sharlene Tator, brought to a close the existence of the 27 year old club.

The final meeting was attended by approximately 20 members and guests, and following tradition, members enjoyed an appetizer buffet and exchanged secret pal and name draw gifts.

The GFWC Belleville Junior Study

Club was organized in 1956 as a member of both the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs and the Michigan State Federation of Junior Women's Clubs. Club members have met on a monthly basis since that time, working to better their community through public service.

Beginning January 1, 1984, the group will re-charter, and become the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club. The newly formed group will retain its membership in the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs but will no longer be affiliated with the Junior Federation.

Members will continue to work in Federation's six main emphasis areas — Art, Conservation, Education, Home Life, International Affairs, and Public Affairs. They will also continue to sponsor such local projects as Girlstown, art club, the annual card party, the Genevieve Clark Memorial Scholarship, and the Giving Tree.

Among the reasons that precipitated the change is the confusion that often resulted when the word "junior" was included in the club name through its affiliation with the Junior Federation.

Anyone who wishes more information about Federation and the GFWC Belleville Area Intermediate Study Club, or who would like an invitation to attend the next meeting, should contact club president Nancy Sawyer at 697-0764.

Is Northwest Orient sign record-breaker?

What's 389 feet long and 56 feet high?

Some say it's the world's largest sign that graces the walls of the Northwest Orient Airlines hanger at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in Romulus.

The sign covers the front, side and end walls of the hanger and the apparent 21,000 square feet exceeds the current world's largest painted sign listed in the Guinness Book of World Records. That one measure a mere 5,000 square feet.

This isn't the first world's largest sign for Northwest Orient. It unveiled its first one, a huge Boeing 747 painted on its hanger at Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.

Like the sign in the Twin Cities the one at Metro Airport features a Northwest Orient Boeing 747 with the advertising theme of "The world is going our way."

Northwest Orient is flying high with their new sign

Painting the sign was no easy task. It took four painters about six weeks, not to mention 230 patterns, each measuring 3 feet by 30 feet and 200 gallons of outdoor bulletin paint.

The sign is 27 percent larger than the actual Jumbo jet.

The work of 3M National Advertising, it is estimated the sign will be seen by 20 million people annually. When viewed from the I-94 Freeway, the three walls blend to give the appearance of a flat surface.

Huron to host talent show

50 YEARS OF SERVICE

Romulus residents renew interest in math courses

The growing need for increased numbers of math and science courses in America is showing itself in the Romulus Adult Education program. Enrollment in basic math classes has more than doubled since February of 1982.

According to the program's director, Bill Smith, more adult students are also signing up for algebra than ever before.

"Our students are personally feeling the need for more math,"

Smith explained, "because community colleges and 4-year colleges have increased their math expectations. Industries are demanding more math in their training and apprenticeship programs. Society's new emphasis on computers and renewed commitment to the space program are also factors considered by our students."

Math is one of the five subject areas covered in G.E.D. preparation classes.

Over 200 Romulus

residents took the G.E.D. test during the 1982-83 academic year. The program is the fastest growing and most popular offering in Romulus Adult Education. For the second semester starting January 30, 6 different G.E.D. preparation classes will be offered in Romulus.

Registration for the new semester starts Jan. 16. Residents may register from 11 to 1 p.m. and 3 to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, at Adult Education Center, 11401 Olive Street or from 7 to 8 p.m., Monday through Thursday at Romulus High School, 9650 S. Wayne Road.

For further information on academic classes or a wide variety of hobby and enrichment classes, call 941-0610 from 9 to 4 p.m.

Karen Rae marries Joseph Hayes

A weekend honeymoon stay at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn, a gift from a friend, Mary Ann Mason, capped the wedding day of Karen Lynn Rea of Westland and Joseph Hayes of Wayne.

The bride, the daughter of Donna K. Thornburg of Westland, and the groom, the son of Linda Hayes of Wayne, exchanged their wedding vows in a candle-light service before 100 guests at the First Missionary Church of Westland.

The bride, given in marriage by her grandfather, William Kuhn, chose a gown of lace and satin, with a Queen Ann collar, sheer pleated fingertip sleeves and chapel train. A tiara veil, accented with seed pearls, and a bouquet of silk white and dusty roses and baby's breath completed the ensemble.

Mary Last, friend of the bride, served as matron of honor. Her gown was of dusty rose chiffon with full sleeves and a matching jacket. Her bouquet was of silk dusty roses and white carnations with baby's breath and white ribbon streamers.

Serving as bridesmaid was Kelley Jo Rea, sister of the bride, whose outfit matched that of the honor attendant. Her bouquet was of dusty roses and white carnations with baby's breath and dusty rose-colored ribbon streamers.

Georgia Dee Cobb served as flower girl and wore an off-white short dress with pink ribbons. Ring bearer was Jeffrey Hayes.

The groom asked Greg Dyska to serve as his best man. Ushers were Joey Rea, brother of the bride, Bryant Sypaer and Jerry Claffey.

Mrs. Thornburg chose a light plum-colored floor-length pleated gown with lace bodice for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Hayes wore a dark plum floor-length gown with layered bodice.

Karen Rea-Joseph Hayes

Both mothers were presented with a rose by the bride and groom during the ceremony.

The newlyweds and 150 guests were honored at a reception, given by the mothers, at Roma's of Garden City, following the ceremony.

The new Mrs. Hayes is a 1982 graduate of John Glenn High School. She is employed by the Gerber Child Care Center in Westland.

Her husband is a 1981 John Glenn graduate. A member of the Army Reserves, he is employed as a security guard.

The newlyweds are residing in Westland.

The flower girl was Kristen Fowler, cousin of the bride, who wore a lavender taffeta gown. She carried a basket of flowers, made by the bride. Ring bearer was Gary Diehoff, cousin of the bride.

The groom asked a friend, David Ford of Flat Rock, to serve as best man. Ushers included Kevin Jones of Livonia, a friend; Timothy Bornholdt of Westland, brother of the bride; and Mark Raymo of Wayne, cousin of the bride.

Mrs. Bornholdt chose a blue orchid colored floor-length gown, with a high ruffled neckline, pleated front and long sleeves for the ceremony. Mrs. Diehoff wore a blue floor-length gown, with flared skirt and three-quarter length sleeves.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Diehoff honeymooned on the Ausable River near Grayling, before taking up residence in Ferndale.

A 1980 graduate of Huron Valley Lutheran High School in Inkster and of the Michigan Paraprofessional Training Institute in Romulus, Mrs. Diehoff is employed as a medical assistant at the Nankin Professional Clinic.

Her husband is a 1981 graduate of Southfield Christian High School. He studied at Motech in Livonia and is employed as an auto mechanic by Amoco.

Your responses to my column are most appreciated. Please continue to write to me at 41711 Joy Road, Canton, MI 48187 or call me at 455-8892.

ALL THESE YEARS YOU HAVE BEEN THE MAID; WOULDN'T IT BE GREAT IF YOUR GROWN FAMILY WOULD HELP YOU OUT?

Dear Letter Writer:

Please help me put into words what I am trying to get across to my almost grown children. I am trying to get them to start accepting some responsibility for helping out around the house. I need both their physical help (muscle) and their financial assistance. I have three children and they are all working students. They haven't much time, but neither do I. We all live together, it seems to me as though it is time to all work together.

Sincerely, E.
* ****

Dear Family: Sometimes when I am driving home from work, I visualize the kitchen sink clean and sparkly, with the dishwasher loaded and ready to run; the beds made; the grass cut and the family room neat and tidy.

I am mentally planning dinner and deciding what chores I must do to make certain that my family has clean clothes, good food, fresh sheets on your beds and a nice pleasant atmosphere to bring your friends into. I am always designing organizational plans and things to do so that our house can remain a warm, happy environment for us all to live in.

When your children were youngsters, even though I didn't realize it at the time, it was easier for me. I simply told you what to do, where to go, who to go with, when to be home, etc., and most of the time you did what you were told. We had a household that was run a quasisystematic and orderly fashion. You went to bed at a certain time and things were predictable.

Now, it seems as though I am running a boarding house with husband and kids coming in and out at all hours. People are eating and sleeping on different schedules. It is often difficult to know who is going to be where and when.

I'm enormously proud and pleased with you all. I want you all to know that you have always given me pleasure and brought sunshine into my days. I am writing this letter to you as I really need your understanding and cooperation.

Your mom's running out of steam and stamina. I'm starting to feel resentful that I have no time to myself. I hate feeling this way. Sometimes I fantasize about being able to walk into the house, going to my room and putting on comfortable clothes, opening a clean sparkly refrigerator and finding something to eat and, finally, plopping into an easy chair and relaxing. The kind of fantasies that are realities for other people. Fortunately for me, I know they are fantasies, however, with a little help from you, maybe some of MY DREAMS MAY COME TRUE FOR ME.

I know that you can't completely understand how I feel; I really don't expect you to. I just want you to CARE HOW I FEEL.

I have a pretty good plan and I would like to talk with you all about it. Maybe this Friday evening at 6:30 p.m., we could have a pow wow. From what you have told me, everyone should be home at that time. We are all in relationship that I value and I know you do to. I don't want anyone to win or anyone to lose, I just want to problem solve. Please hear what I'm not saying. I Love You All.

Sincerely, Mom

RESOLUTION: The

family did meet and talk. Some of E's problems were solved, at least for a while. The family made a commitment to meet on a monthly basis to air their feelings.

Sherry Bornholdt weds Mark Diekhoff

St. John's Lutheran Church in Westland was the setting for the recent candlelight nuptial of Sherry A. Bornholdt of Westland and Mark J. Diekhoff of Ferndale.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bornholdt of Westland, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Diekhoff of Ferndale.

The bride chose a gown of white organza over satin, with a lace bodice, accented with pearls, scooped neckline and three-quarter length puff sleeves. The upper portion of the skirt was swagged over three layers of ruffled lace and fell into a chapel train. A flower ring of pink and white silk flowers held her fingertip veil, made by the bride and her mother, in place.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride exchanged vows in the double-ring ceremony before the Rev. John Baer of St. John's Church and the Rev. James Tauscher, a friend of the Bornholdt family, of Our Savior Church in New Jersey.

Marie Spaude served as organist, while Kevin Jones played the guitar and Michael Prieskorn sang "The Wedding Song."

The bride asked her friend, Donna Mitchell of Brownstown, to serve as maid of honor. She wore a lavender taffeta gown, with scooped neckline, puff sleeves, short train and a hood, made by the bride's mother. She carried a lace fan, accented with purple and white silk flowers, made by the bride.

The bridesmaids were Vicki Prieskorn of Westland, cousin of the bride, Ann Diekhoff and Molly Diekhoff, both of Ferndale and sisters of the bride.

They wore lavender taffeta gowns with hooped skirts and carried white lace fans with lavender and white silk flowers, also made by the bride.

The flower girl was Kristen Fowler, cousin of the bride, who wore a lavender taffeta gown. She carried a basket of flowers, made by the bride. Ring bearer was Gary Diehoff, cousin of the bride.

The groom asked a friend, David Ford of Flat Rock, to serve as best man. Ushers included Kevin Jones of Livonia, a friend; Timothy Bornholdt of Westland, brother of the bride; and Mark Raymo of Wayne, cousin of the bride.

Emmanuel "Manos" Chrisoulakis has learned two valuable lessons during his years in the restaurant business.

He knows, first of all, that area diners enjoy homemade dishes prepared on a daily basis: frozen foods aren't acceptable. And secondly, the entrees must be offered at affordable prices.

Visitors to Manos' Magic Meal Restaurant, located at 31461 Ford Road in Garden City, will find that he has learned his culinary lessons well. A varied menu is featured here, complete with enough specials to satisfy most family members.

Breakfast selections are served anytime and include eggs, various omelettes, pancakes and french toast. For $1.85 one can order two eggs, bacon or sausage, hash browns or pancakes, toast and coffee (until 11 a.m.).

The luncheon menu is highlighted by several burger and sandwich choices along with soups and salads. All sandwiches are priced below $3 and include a reuben, tuna salad, fish fillet, ham and cheese, roast beef, greek burger and a club burger, which features a triple-deck hamburger topped with bacon, turkey, lettuce and tomato.

Each day a number of sandwiches are provided with soup for $1.99 as well.

After 11 a.m. diners can pick from four or five daily specials that come with soup, salad or cole slaw, choice of potato and vegetable at a cost of $2.95 or two meals for $5.45. Salisbury steak, roast chicken, roast turkey, liver and onions and veal cutlets are among the entrees offered.

"Specials" are only a brief part of Magic Meal's dinner selections, however. Approximately 20 entrees are highlighted, ranging from steaks and chops to seafood and several Greek and Italian specialties. All remain in the family price range (the most expensive item is the 10-ounce New York Strip Steak for $5.45).

How does Manos supply the "magic" touch to his menu?

"I do most of the cooking myself," said the native of Greece who now resides in Canton. Manos and his father-in-law, Anthony Vasilou, have operated the family restaurant for some three years. "It involves a lot of 65 and 70 hour weeks for me but that's the way to keep everything fresh. We don't want to use frozen foods to save time."

The Magic Meal seats 60 to 70 persons and offers carry-out service, "waist watcher" entrees and meals for children. The establishment is open at 5 a.m. daily and closes at 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 7 p.m. Sunday.

Officers promote concert

The music will be Country-Western when the up and coming country group, The Thrasher Brothers, appear at 8 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 22, at the Center Stage in Canton Township.

Now making their mark on the country-western music scene, the group has appeared with such performers as Alabama and Juice Newton and is known for the theme music to the hit TV show, "Simon and Simon."

The show is being staged by the Westland Police Officers Association and East-West Productions and will benefit the proposed Ronald McDonald House at Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

"We wanted to do something for the community, not something that would be a profit for ourselves," explained POA president Lennis Hayes. "We wanted to do something for the community as a whole. We're aware of the problems that families face during severe illnesses of their children."

"We think something like this residents of Westland can avail themselves to use in times of need."

The Ronald McDonald House provides inexpensive lodging for families of critically ill children near the hospital and in lieu of staying at the medical facility or in a hotel.

The POA will be donating all of its proceeds, less expenses, from the show, as well as profits from a magazine Hayes hopes will be filled with advertisements from Westland merchants.

Tickets for the show cost $10 per person ($5 for students) and are tax deductible. They can be obtained from any Westland police officer or by calling 425-9521 or 425-9259.

Thanks, Jim

There was going to be a very good column here. I mean, dear readers, I had the material for a really interesting, humorous, meaningful piece of work dripping with relevance, social value and insight.

It isn't here. But that isn't my fault. Blame Jim Kosteva, township planning director in Canton.

So, thanks Jim, not only for ruining a perfectly good column, but for letting me into the inner sanctum, the bowels, if you will, of Canton Township Hall.

Forgive me, gentle readers, for leaving you high and dry, so to speak . . . but let's talk here. Ya see, last Tuesday evening, I ventured out to enjoy the entertainment of the Canton Township Board of Trustees meeting.

Now, I'm a fairly patient guy, right? So I listened to a Mr. Rafer tell the board that he and his neighbors in the Al Smith section of Canton " . . . need sewage." Well, I thought, I can help this man. How many truck loads does he need? He could come in and clean out our office at the end of the week and get all he needs. It gets real deep in here come Friday. (Sorry, Mr. Rafer, no unkindness intended.)

Then, I listened to Maria Sterlini, the treasurer, and the board face off. I thought seeing them in action, this man can get all he needs right there. He won't even have to leave the room!

Then came the fresh assault on everyone's sense of propriety over the Freedom of Information Act.

Now I'm interested in this subject, being in the communications business and all. But, all that sitting and earlier talk about the subject with which Mr. Rafer was concerned . . . well, I tore myself away to seek the first available men's facility.

Guess what! It was locked! Locked? Yep, locked!

I protest. This is unconstitutional. My rights have been violated.

Locked? During a public meeting in a public facility? Yep — you bet, locked up tight. All that other sewage talk suddenly seemed of little comfort. This is an issue worthy of public debate, and material for a great column.

Now wait. Don't over-react. This is just a mistake. Right? I found a janitor. "Nope," he says to me, "have to go to the third floor for a key." Now, I'm provoked. I return to the meeting room, in an uncharacteristically bad mood.

I am an unhappy and uncomfortable person here. Get the picture? I'm thinking about how I could organize a public movement, so to speak, to right this terrible wrong. No one's rights should be violated. Right? Right! Jim Kosteva sitting just behind me took note and, thanks to a fellow journalist person who squealed, he fumbled quickly for a key and subsequently dragged me to a place of convenience, whereupon I proceeded to get unmad.

So, thanks Jim, but ya sure know how to ruin a perfectly good column, about an issue very close to me.

I still think the facilities should be left unlocked. But folks, if they're not, just go see Jim. He'll help you out, wearing a rather smug grin, but who cares?

Thanks again, Jim, I promise to never, ever forget this.

Cancer and Dynamite Park

I found Managing Editor, Tom Mooradian's Other Side of the Meridian column of January 5, 1984, quite interesting. But there has been some misconceptions just where "Dynamite Park" is located. Also, there is some concern over the neighborhood that apparently is suffering from more-than-average cancer reports.

And, I believe that should be the main concern of all of us: Is there a cancer-causing agent in the water system or on the lands in that area?

First, the area was described as being east of Merriman, bounded by Annapolis, Gloria and Carlisle. It is actually west of Merriman Road. And then, it was said to be behind what was once the old Carpenter Dodge Dealership. This has been an error in several articles on this location.

The area behind the Carpenter Dealership is actually located north of Michigan Avenue, that's Dynamite Park which is on Josephine Street just east of Howe Road.

In the past few months there were articles in several papers about the Environmental Control which was suppose to be done by Wayne County in this section, Dynamite Park. This Park has not been used or maintained for several years and had been reported as a health hazard. But, this is not the area of concern with this cancer problem.

The area of concern to these people is the area south of Michigan Avenue and east of Merriman. This appears to be open field land which has in the past been used for growing senior citizen gardens, pumpkin patches, Wayne County Sheriff Circus's, and other activities.

At one time it was believed to be used, partly as a dumping area for waste of all forms from the old Wayne County Hospital which was known as the Eloise Complex. This was before the new hospital section was built. However, Wayne County still owns this property. Until the late 1960s a draining area ran parallel to this subdivision. This is the area of concern.

A gentleman and a resident of this subdivision was quoted as saying "the neighborhood is not a young one."

True, however, this same area has generations of children growing and living in this same area.

The local elementary school, which happens to be in this area on Gloria between Annapolis and Carlisle is filled and there are also students of St. Mary's and St. John's schools living in this area.

Personally I do not live in this subdivision. I live nearby, south of Annapolis, but these are my neighbors and friends and I am concerned about their welfare and health. It's wrong to turn our backs and ignore these people. So, please keep the facts straight and help these neighbors find out if there is grounds for their concern, and then correct it.

Let these neighbors have peace of mind.

More on Dynamite Park

I would like to make some points about the pollution in Wayne as it has appeared in the news and newspapers during the last month concerning Dynamite Park.

To quote Wayne's Mayor on the subject of "Dynamite Park," "Now there's a tremendous amount of misinformation."

I'd like to make some points about the pollution in Wayne as it has appeared in the news during the last month.

1. I don't know where you learned the geography of Wayne. Behind Ed Carpenter Sales is north and Gloria Heights is east and south of ECS about a mile away.

2. "Carpenter Dodge" or ECS was never to my knowledge cited for pollution violations.

3. According to a Detroit Free Press article (12-8-83 Western Wayne section, page 6A, paragraph 5 by Nancy Ross) the amount of contaminants was so thin that it was very difficult for a sample to be obtained in 1979 at the Dynamite/ECS location.

4. According to articles in the Free Press and Eagle (DFP 12-8-83 — Eagle 12-1-83) the Dynamite Park site appeared to have cleared itself up by the fall of 1983.

I've never heard of a "toxic dump" doing this before.

5. What went into the sewer at ECS was from a wash rack for cars. According to Willie Johnican, a former employee of ECS who had worked 25 feet from the wash rack from 1954 till its closing, he never saw any chemicals dumped in the system. The only thing he ever saw go in the sewer was the wash water which included dirt, soap and whatever chemicals that washed off the cars.

I don't know if ECS contributed to anyone's ill health. I hope not.

I would like you to find out, as a reporter the facts: 1. Has anyone north and east of ECS where the river runs experienced any abnormal health problems? (i.e. around Woodbrook Drive, Winifred and Adele).

2. Have you questioned any employees of Wayne County General about lab wastes dumped in the area south of Michigan Ave. and east of Merriman? This area is adjacent to Gloria Heights. A couple of employees of WCGH I have talked to mentioned lab wastes dumped there, in particular toluene. That the health problems in Gloria Heights were induced by pollution from a "toxic dump" hasn't been proven. (DPF 12-29-83 Western Wayne section 1.A article by Nancy Ross)

I feel that if health problems were caused by a "toxic dump" that the suspected dumping of Wayne County General would be a more logical cause of the problems in Gloria Heights than the trace of chemicals found north of Ed Carpenter Sales, Inc.

For my grandfather who is not alive to defend himself.

Dr. King: A tribute

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

"Alive in the midst of death . . ."

A strange gathering of words . . . words I found while flipping pages in one of my many notebooks. Who do I attribute them to? I don't know. Where — what author — should I credit them to? I don't know.

And why should they remind me of the life of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Is it because of the so many paradoxes in Dr. King's life? His struggle for civil rights? His defiant walks against the racial injustices and prejudices historically embedded in this nation's social and economic structure?

And if the assassin's goal was to silence Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. forever, it missed its target.

Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. is alive today and "his dream" continues as it did 15 years ago before an assassin's bullet cut him down on that infamous day in Memphis in 1968.

The drive to make Dr. King's birthday, January 15, a national holiday has been successful. It will be commemorated this year as a state holiday, and in 1985 the nation will pause to celebrate King's birthday as a national holiday. He is the only black in the history of this nation ever to be thus honored.

Rev. Martin Luther King's "dream" has been the dream of every man, woman and child who believes that skin has nothing to do with one's ability; that racial prejudice has no room in a world yearning for understanding and love.

Born in Atlanta, Georgia in the year 1929, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. learned early in his life the volcanic hatred some whites hold for blacks: the injustices perpetuated in a system that called for the segregation of the races and, early in his life, he set about to abolish those practices.

"From my Christian background I gained my ideals and from Gandhi my operational technique," Dr. King said.

After numerous confrontations with the social and political powers, it became inevitable that this powerful speaker and charismatic personality would become the leader of the civil rights movement in the United States. His passive resistance movement — a political tactic which Gandhi used to humble the British Empire and win independence for India — grew and found allies.

On December 1, 1955 — a date many believe was the turning point in the civil rights movement — a stubborn and brave Montgomery seamstress named Rosa Parks flirted with disaster when, tired after a hard day's work, she refused to give up her seat to a white person on a bus.

That incident triggered the shot heard around the country and the world. Mrs. Parks was arrested, and the arrest sparked a black boycott of public transportation in Montgomery that lasted 382 days.

The rest is history.

In November of 1956, the Supreme Court of the United States upheld a decision of a lower court that the Alabama law requiring segregation on the buses was in fact unconstitutional. And in December of that same year blacks and whites — for the first time in this country's history — rode Montgomery buses on an unsegregated basis.

Dr. King realized that his life was in danger. He knew of that "climate of hatred and bitterness" that permeated this nation, but he had a mission to accomplish in life and would not let the cynics stop him.

Dr. King was tirelessly attentive to those in need and his exquisite voice was inspirational to all those who had an opportunity to hear him.

Dr. King fulfilled his destiny as he saw the civil rights movement grow and during his short lifespan more was done to bring the races together than in any time in the 200-year history of this country.

It is a twist of fate that in October 1962, Dr. King met with and urged President John F. Kennedy to take a more decisive stand on civil rights.

Ironically, both President Kennedy and Dr. King would be cut down by assassins' bullets.

The void remains, but the work continues.

Without Dr. King, the civil rights movement would have remained in the dark ages.

Quick action saves a life

EDITOR — Recently a man suffered respiratory failure and fell unconscious in a supermarket in Wayne.

A young lady, Carol Ann Glass, came to the man's rescue by asking someone to call the EMS unit. In the meantime, Ms. Glass found the man had a pulse but was not breathing.

She immediately started CPR, providing the necessary oxygen until the unit arrived. Carol is credited with saving the man's life and from the victim possibly suffering brain damage.

He was breathing comfortably when the unit arrived. The young lady had told us that she had taken a CPR (Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation) course at Annapolis Hospital when it was offered to the public. Carol is a past president of the Wayne Jaycees and is a member of Collins Rebekah Lodge No. 325 in Wayne.

She is a credit to her community and to mankind.

Inkster in transition

EDITOR — As a group of "Concerned residents of the City of Inkster," we feel that the city has again wasted taxpayers money. We hoped that the recent election and the change of city officials there would be a change in philosophy.

For the past four years the administration has stated time and time again that the city of Inkster was broke and had to cut back on city services. Also it has laid off city employees. During the recent campaign, it was stated by the past Mayor that the now new city mayor will not be able to make any significant changes or improvements, because the money will not or is not there. Well, we believe him for a number of reasons, that we will mention.

Number one, when an employee is removed from city employ by being fired or involuntary departure, then and only then is he entitled to a severance pay of $11,000 or one-quarter of the total salary of this particular employee.

But this was not the situation as the City Manager left on his own, thereby, he was not entitled to such a severance pay. Especially, when the City Manager was approached to his leaving his city post, he was reported to have stated it was nice to have an alternate position to go to. But he did not elaborate why this was so important at this particular time. So, taxpayers, when the City of Inkster is crying "broke," why was Wylie Williams given the $11,000 dollars severance pay with a 4 to 3 vote? Why did these city councilmen vote out such a large outlay of our tax dollars?

Next we would like to know why did the City of Inkster feel it necessary to make it possible for the City Personnel Director to take his state bar exam (financial help)? Also, with the reduction of employees, because of layoffs, (and firings) is it now necessary to have a personnel director? It is possible that the city is now entertaining the idea of "changing horses or horse in the middle of the stream?"

Now we would like to know exactly what percentage of the $17,000 in legal fees has the city paid for the people who are now under indictment (is it for not spending or using federal dollars as they should have been used). We will not even ask how good of an investment was it on the part of the City of Inkster to loan to London Motors approximately $150,000 at a low interest rate, and with such poor collateral.

The reason; any high school student would have passed on that one.

Last but not least, why does this city always look outside the city for persons to fill various positions? Is council so stupid as to think just because a person is out of state his qualifications are greater than those of a person living within our city.

I understand the statement was made council was looking for the very best. Well, we think you have had not the best but you have paid some of the best in salaries. Or could it be that council would be put to shame to hire someone within their own city that would fill a position of greater responsibility and who would be receiving a larger salary? It may sound silly, but it could be true.

We think a person who is and has been a long time resident of the city with the experience and proven ability should be the first to be considered. But, of course, this could only take place if council is capable to see the advantage and wants to make the best of it, and is above pettiness and sincerely wishes to provide the residents the best for their tax dollars.

Why not apply this method to the important positions that have to be filled as soon as possible.

It would be nice for a change to get people who have a vested interest in the city and its residents above the salary the positions pay.

This is the picture now and the reason we feel for the most part there is no desire for the majority of the council to improve their actions or the plight of this city, and listening to the residents saying we want a change, we need improvement, and would like our tax dollars to mean something positive and not be slapped in the face and laughed at, at the same time.

'Can Sharing'
says thanks

EDITOR — The "Can Sharing" program for the City of Romulus would like to extend a multitude of thanks for your generous support and contributions for the past year and especially for this holiday season.

In our caring and sharing spirit, all Christmas donations were given to the Goodfellows organization.

We intend to continue our can sharing program all year. We will continue to have a container placed in City Hall for your convenience. Whatever you donate, whether it be one can or more, or any cash contribution will not only feed the hungry but bring blessings in return. It is our prayer that the Romulus citizens will continue to help us in caring & Sharing in this vital program.

Thank you for your continuing support.

EDITOR — As one who has been privileged to work with Wayne-Westland parents and their children for over a third of a century, I wish to take this opportunity and express my unbound gratitude to them, and in particular, for the super local press support.

It has been my good fortune to work in a community where parents have always been ready to join in any and all endeavors in which their children are participants. Thank you, Sue McDonald, for your frequent featuring of articles and letters written by youngsters. Lothar Konietzko deserves heartfelt thanks for being on the spot whenever needed with his matchless camera skills.

May the power of the love that sustain the universe grant every good wish to all who demonstrate devotion in making children grow up happily. Let us all strive to do more for others rather than just getting and having more for ourselves, whether it be knowledge per se, or material possessions. Let the quality of our educational process be judged on how each one of us meets and fulfills human needs rather than simple attainment of academic scores, for deeds have always spoken louder than facts, especially when the facts are selfishly used.

Food drive is successful

EDITOR — The Holiday Season has come and gone and we at the Belleville-Van Buren Chamber of Commerce wish to extend our thanks ...

To those who took part in planning and participating in the Christmas parade; To the chamber merchants who offered raffle prizes ... those who sold and purchased tickets;

To all the people, businesses, schools, clubs, churches and organizations who participated in the canned food drive for those in need in our area. An outstanding job was done by the students of Belleville High School, North and South Junior High schools and the elementary schools, along with the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club and the Ford/Mercury Restorers Club from River-view.

To the following member businesses for collection points: Captain Nemo's, Bud's TV & Radio Repair, Lemontree, National Bank of Detroit, Family Dentistry, Wyandotte Savings Bank, Chopper's Towing and Bank of the Commonwealth.

To the September Days Senior Citizens for their help in manning the phones for the Goodfellow calls.

And a special thanks to our President, Patricia Birbeck and her crew, Bob Birbeck and Tom Dapprich. They spent all their free time in collecting, sorting, loading and unloading the thousands of canned goods.

So many people devoted many hours of their time to make this Christmas program a success ... our sincere thanks to each and everyone of you. This truly is a community of "People Helping People."

Other side of scrap

EDITOR — As a Romulus Department of Public Works employee I would like to respond to the article that appeared in the Romulus Roman on January 4, 1984 regarding the "illegal" sale of scrap metal by "DPW employees."

The sale of accumulated scrap metal goes back to the days that we were Romulus Township; and continued when we became the City of Romulus.

Monies for the scrap metal were and have always been turned over to the Treasurer and never used for a Christmas party. The DPW employees Christmas Party has always been supported by donations from the DPW Director, DPW Foremen, DPW employees and local businesses.

I would also like to point out that the majority of the scrap metal was not city property. It consisted of car parts and junk that had been discarded on city roads and in roadside ditches. We have also had a special ditch cleaning program for the past 18 weeks and they have removed truck loads of metal from our large drainage ditches.

I cannot conceive that some of our city fathers would want to claim this garbage as valuable city property. In fact we have never been advised by City Council as to what we should do with this junk, save it or discard it.

Another point to be made is that common economics will tell you that if scrap metal is sold at auction it would bring less money than if sold directly to a scrap metal dealer.

Instead of storing this scrap metal at the DPW yard we could put it in the dumpsters that the city provides for garbage at the DPW. That wouldn't make much sense though would it, because then the citizens would have to pay the dumpster company to haul it away? The way it was disposed of made a profit for the city, a much more sensible idea to my way of thinking.

All I can say in conclusion is that we did not think we were committing a major crime in cleaning up the DPW yard and bringing a small profit to the city.

Holidays, according to a child

The door flew open and a blast of frigid air blew through the house.

"Grandma, grandma, want to read my themes? Will you tell me if I spelled the words right?" Michael never comes into the house quietly. He blows in, and he is always excited about something.

Today he is excited because he has 24 hours before school opens and he wrote three themes ... with time to spare! I gave him a big hug, because a grandma should always hug a kid even if he hadn't more than two hours to spare, and I read his themes!

I thought, perhaps, you would enjoy sharing his themes on Thanksgiving and Christmas with me. Pull up a chair ... it will only take a minute. Mike is not the wordy type.

Thanksgiving according to Mike:

"On Thanksgiving we all went to my grandma's house. When we got there there was a turkey in the oven. My grandpa said it was a first in all the years he has been married to my grandma because it was the first time she ever fixed a turkey. She had to do it because my grandpa had a sore hand where the doctor had put in some stitches. The turkey didn't taste any different all ways. My grandma doesn't fix turkeys because they were alive once.

My cousins were there and went outside and played, and then when it was dark my dad and my Uncle Fred played their guitars and sang."

When I commended the little kid on his theme he told me he would have made it longer only his hand gets tired from all that writing.

"Doesn't your hand get tired from all your writing, Grandma?" he asked.

"No," I told him, "but my brain does."

He looked up at me with that quizzical little look that he has become a master of and said,

"Why?"

Naturally, I didn't answer such a dumb question. I told him to give me his theme on Christmas, and so here is Christmas, according to Mike:

"My Uncle David came from California to have Christmas with us. I love Christmas. Uncle David brought presents for everyone and my grandma said he was the best Santa Claus and my Uncle Fred said he was the rich uncle.

"We always go to my grandma and grandpa's house for Christmas Eve. All of my aunts and uncles and my great aunts and uncles and all of my cousins and we eat Swedish stuff. Then we open presents, but not the ones from Santa Claus or the ones from Grandma and Grandpa.

We wait until Christmas morning to do that. We all go to Grandma's house for Christmas morning, too, and Grandpa always fixes a big breakfast after we open our presents.

My Uncle Fred always takes pictures. My grandma doesn't like to cook but my grandpa does."

There you can see how important grandma's and grandpa's are to little kids, especially grandpa's who like to cook.

I remember when I first met this kid's grandpa ... the young pilot with dancing eyes.

I remember how beautiful his hands were as he played the piano that first evening when we went out, and I remember his lazy way of teasing, and the way he danced.

Not once did I ask if he could cook. That was a bonus! How lucky for Mike ... it was his theme! I hope that little kid gets an A plus!

See, TuTu's not dumb. She may not know (or maybe she doesn't want to know) about plump, but she does know about fashion.

She knows, for instance, that nobody really buys that stuff. And that's a hard thing to live with, knowing that there could come a time when everybody — including the editor — will know that nobody really buys that stuff.

So I say keep her happy — at least until swell pension time — and never, never tell her that there is one among her admirers who peruses her column every morning in a three-sizes-too-big flannel nightgown and a pair of laceless tennies.

(I used those laces on another pair of shoes and I'll be haute coutured if I can find them now.)

Fun furs and TuTu

TuTu Wright says "fun furs" are all the rage — and on sale this week, to boot. (Boots may be, too, I don't know.)

TuTu keeps up on those things, so she ought to know. She probably even knows the definition of a "fun fur."

TuTu is the fashion editor of our local dailies. I don't think that is her real name, TuTu. Although, I would think that if a person were born a TuTu Wright, her career in the fashion world would be a given.

TuTu works hard at what she does, and somebody should let her know how much somebody appreciates it.

She jets all over the world to find just the right look for every occasion. She finds clever llama jackets in the Andes (though, would a truly clever llama end up as a jacket?) ...

She journeys to far-out California in February to get the first word on the hot beach scene ...

She has even eaten Muk-tuk while wearing Muk-lucks in the Yukon (or was it the other way around?). TuTu has done it all — and for what? So that I, a mere person, can stand out in the crowd and be "in."

I know TuTu is doing this for me — I know it. So what perversity causes me to balk every now and then?

For instance, TuTu tells me that it's all right to wear long button-up shirts open to the crotch with long button-down blouses open to there. I tell her I can't — my crotch is too close to the ground and my cleavage is too close to my chin. She says, "Pish-tosh" (or was it Pish-Tish?), any figure can be made to appear more attractive through the magic of marvelous design.

I protest and say that the figure must first be of marvelous design, but TuTu will not be persuaded.

One reason, I think, that TuTu cannot be persuaded is that she has never actually seen me. So far, we have communicated only through the pages of the daily newspaper. Now, if you look straight on at the edge of that newspaper page, what do you see? You see thin. That is TuTu's world. Thin.

In her world, plump is not a human condition. Plump is for pillows. So far be it for me to be the one to tell TuTu that, as of December, slightly more than 50 percent of her readers can now qualify for half-sized. Nosiree, not me.

TuTu has a tough time of it, what with misses sizes and junior sizes and junior misses sizes ... and I hear they're sending her to Iran next to report on the intricacies of the veil.

No, better that she goes on believing that we can all wear two ribbons across our chests and still have room to spare.

And honestly now, is it hurting anybody?

And isn't it fun to see how the other less-than-half lives? So in order to ensure a perfectly nice lady a lifetime of free travel and maybe even a small pension, is it asking too much to pretend we're all size five's and shrinking?

State-ranked Oak Park to test Romulus

How good is Romulus High's basketball team? That question may be answered Friday night when Oak Park, the No. 2 state-ranked Class B team, visits the Eagles' gym.

"We're looking forward to the Oak Park game," said Romulus coach Al Wilkerson. "The line-up that they will bring with them is the same one that finished second and almost won the state championship a year ago."

Both teams enter the confrontation with identical 6-1 overall records. Also, at stake is the Metro-West Conference lead and probably the championship.

Oak Park has excellent height and experience in senior Tony Hollifield, a 6-7 senior, who will have to be neutralized by either Romulus sophomore Terry Mills (6-8) or junior Grant Long (6-7). The Parkers also have a pair of outstanding shooters in 6-4 Michael Thornton and 6-6 Dave Pritchett.

"Obviously, we can't make too many mistakes and expect to win against a team of Oak Park's caliber," Wilkerson noted. "This game will tell us a lot about ourselves. And it will give us a lot of experience playing against one of the finest teams in the state."

Romulus' inaugural trip to the Pontiac Silverdome last Friday ended with a 75-30 blow-out of Metro-West Conference rival, Taylor Center, which couldn't handle the Eagles in any department. Romulus jumped out in front 20-2 after the first period, allowing Wilkerson to substitute freely the rest of the evening.

Mills fired in a career high 15 field goals and added one of one free throws for a game (and season) high 31 points, despite playing less than three-periods. Long contributed 23 points in the rout and Steve Glenn added 10.

"This was one of those fun game in which all of our players had an opportunity to play," Wilkerson said. "And it was nice winning at the Silverdome."

Immediately following the

Romulus-Taylor Center contest, the Detroit Pistons and former Romulus High cage great Johnny Long humbled the New York

Knicks to extend their winning streak to five games. The Pistons eventually moved into a first place tie in their division.

Inkster takes on Rouge

It will be a typical Inkster-River Rouge basketball game.

That means the pending duel between these two classic rivals will be a knock-down, drag-out fight to the end.

"Lofton Green (Rouge's coach) always fields excellent teams," said Inkster Coach George Thompson. "and this year's ball club is indicative of the kind of teams he has had in the past. I expect an excellent game Friday night."

Friday night is when the Rouge Panthers invade the Viking court and a standing room only crowd is expected to gather for the Suburban Athletic Conference confrontation.

In the meantime, Willow Run, the newest SAC member, pulled out a cliffhanging 66-62 victory over Thompson's Vikings as the Bond brothers — Andre and Bryan — combined for 39 points.

Exchanging baskets evenly the first half — the game was tied at 10-all and 24-all at the end of the first and second periods, respectively, Willow Run built up a 10-point bulge in the third quarter as Andre sank nine of his game high 24 points and Bryan chipped in six.

Willow Run connected on 26 of its 56 shots from the floor and made 14 of 22 free throws to the Vikings' dismal 21 of 65 field goals and 20 of 26 free throws.

"We had our chances but missed them, and that was the difference," Thompson said.

What you should do and who you should call when your phone's in a fix.

It isn't very often that you need to deal with telephone repairs, but when you do, you want them taken care of as fast as possible. Now that Michigan Bell has separated from AT&T, there are some changes in the way repair problems are handled.

We have some suggestions for you on how to identify your phone repair problems so that you can get them handled as quickly as possible. But first it's important to know who will make specific telephone repairs. For example, effective January 1, 1984:

1. AT&T assumed ownership of the phones Michigan Bell had been providing you for a monthly fee. AT&T will continue to lease those phones to you and will offer repair services.
2. AT&T will also offer repair service for phones that you purchased from Michigan Bell prior to January 1, 1984.
3. Michigan Bell will continue to service and repair the lines that lead to your home or business.

Now let's talk about how you can tell if it's your phone that needs repairing or your phone lines.

Here's how:

- ☒ If you have plug-in or modular service, make sure all of your phones are properly plugged in.
- ☒ Check all phones for physical damage or frayed cords. If you find damage, it's probably an instrument problem.
- ☒ If you have more than one telephone, check them all for a dial tone. If you don't hear a dial tone on any of the phones, you may have a line problem. If you do hear a dial tone on at least one phone, the problem is probably in one of your other instruments.
- ☒ If you determine that the trouble is isolated to one instrument at one location, and you have modular service, try that instrument at another outlet or possibly at a neighbor's (if both you and your neighbor have similar one-party service). If the instrument works at another location, the problem may be with a specific outlet. If the instrument does not work at another phone outlet, the problem is probably with the instrument.
- ☒ If you have only one phone and it does not appear to be damaged, but cannot be moved to another outlet for testing, call Michigan Bell Repair Service. We will help you determine whether you have an equipment or line problem.

We suggest you clip and save the following phone numbers and keep them near your telephone.

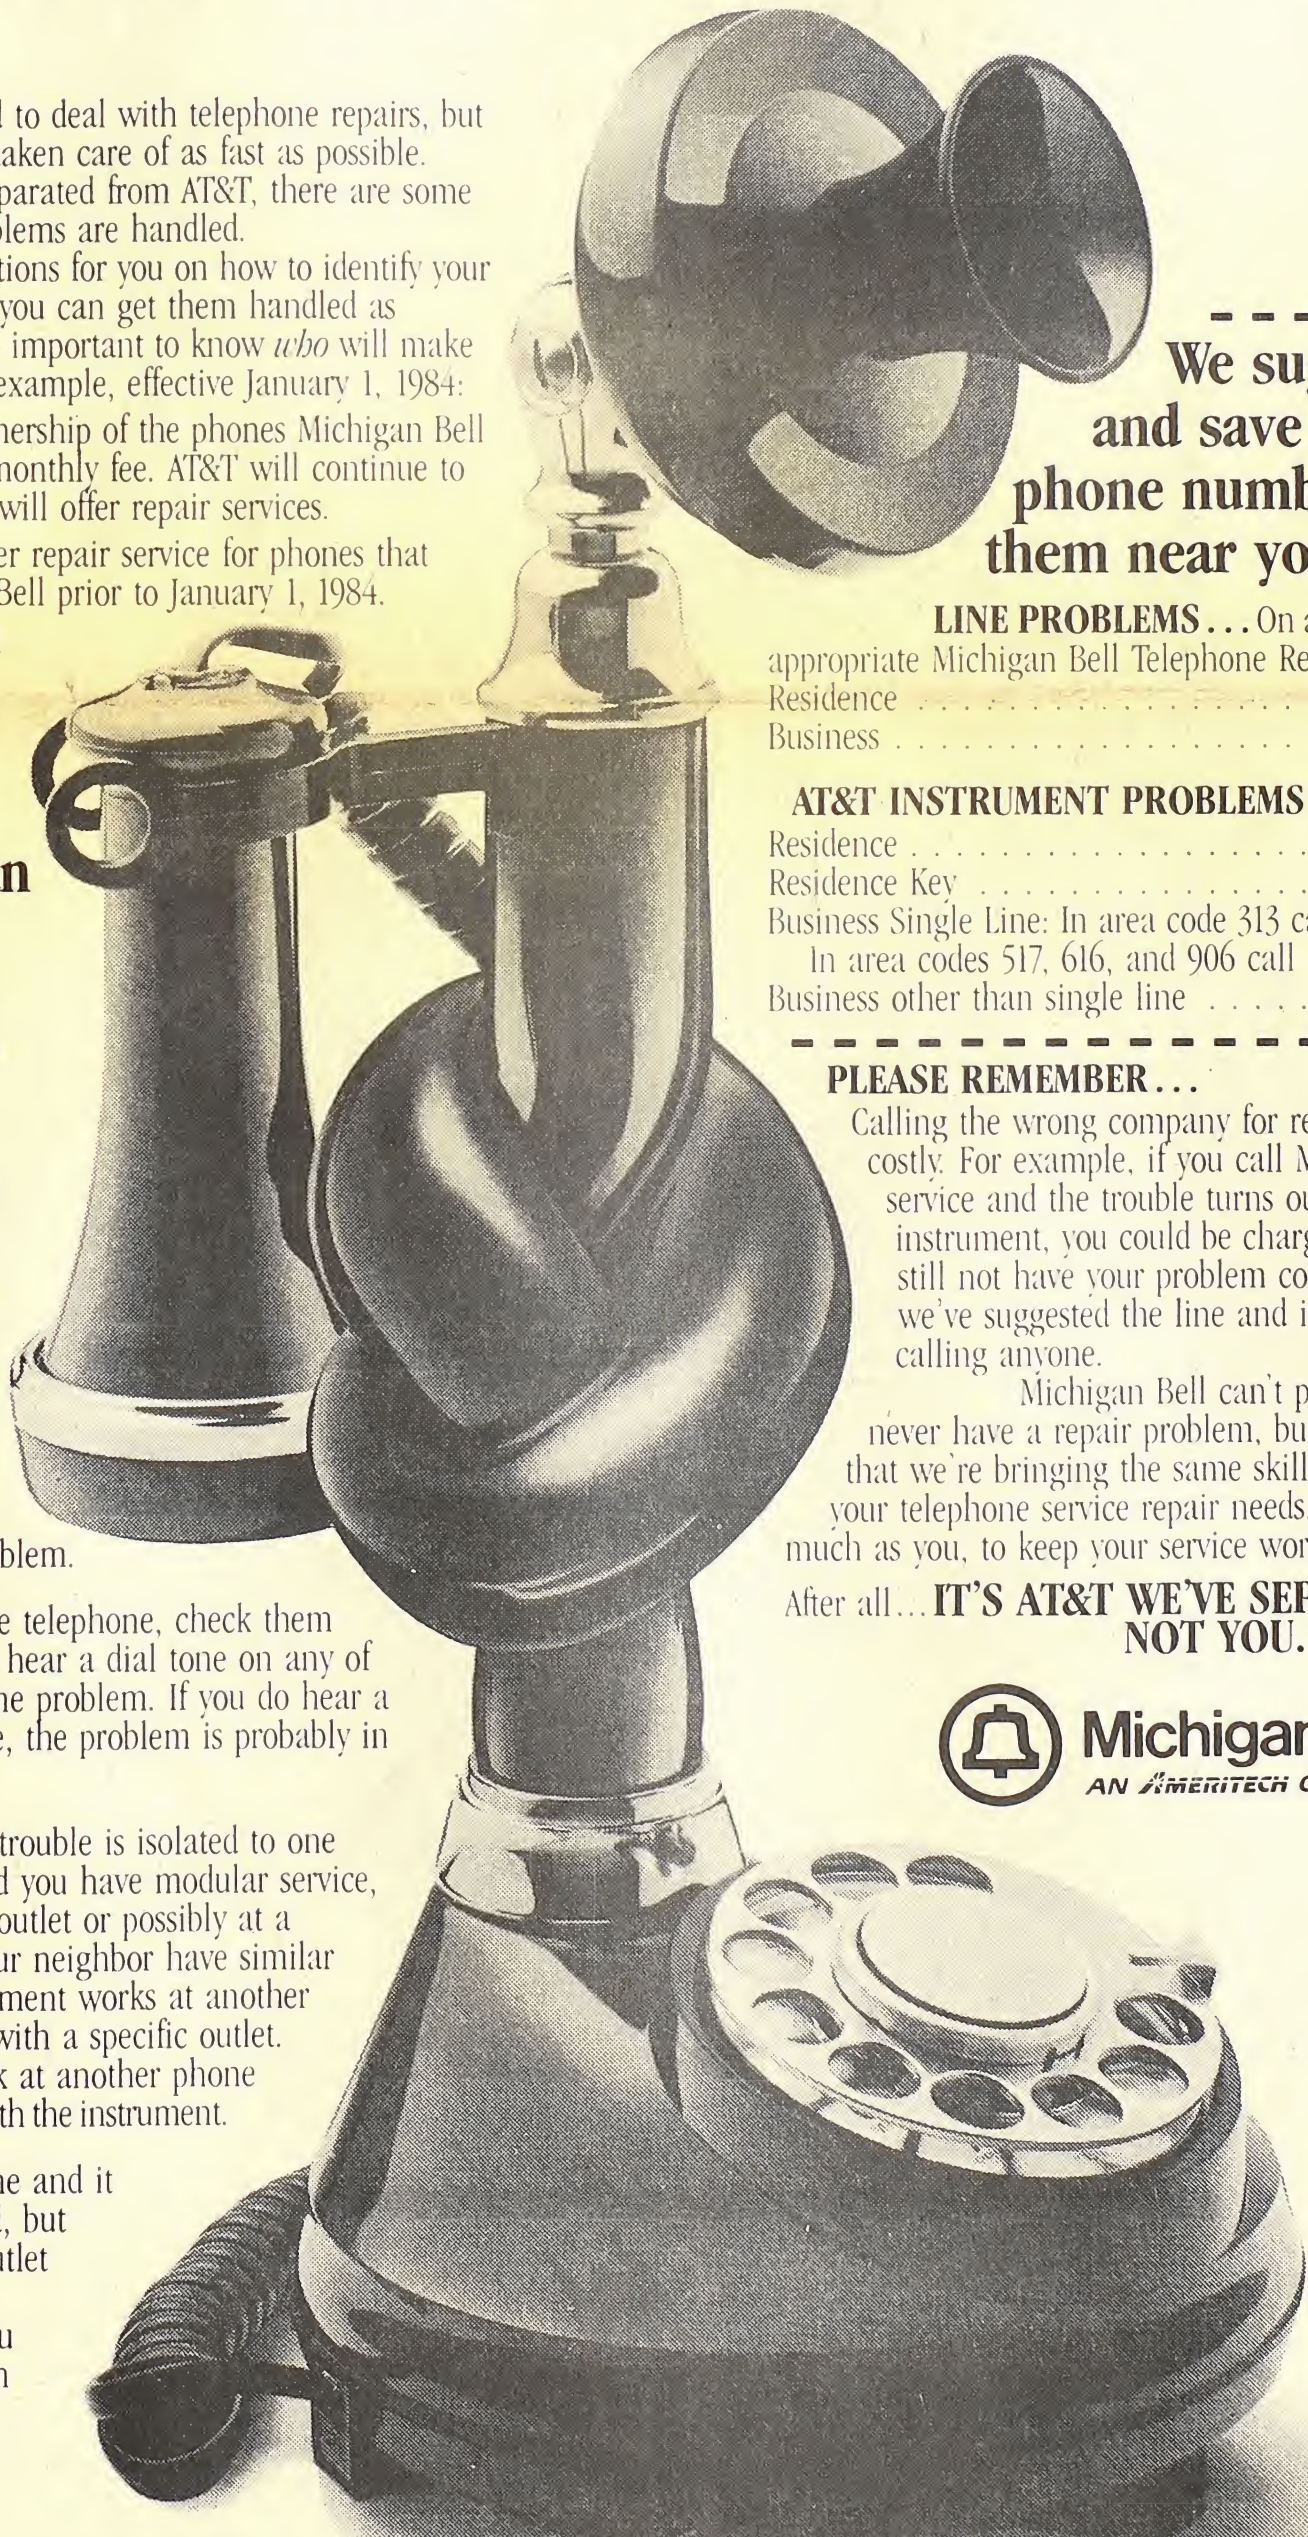

LINE PROBLEMS . . .		On all line problems, call the appropriate Michigan Bell Telephone Repair Service:
Residence	221-2121
Business	221-3131
AT&T INSTRUMENT PROBLEMS . . .
Residence	1 800 555-8111
Residence Key	1 800 526-2000
Business Single Line: In area code 313 call	1 800 992-2772
In area codes 517, 616, and 906 call	1 800 248-2772
Business other than single line	1 800 526-2000

PLEASE REMEMBER . . .

Calling the wrong company for repair service could be costly. For example, if you call Michigan Bell for repair service and the trouble turns out to be in a telephone instrument, you could be charged for a service call and still not have your problem corrected. That's why we've suggested the line and instrument checks before calling anyone.

Michigan Bell can't promise you that you'll never have a repair problem, but we can assure you that we're bringing the same skill and experience to your telephone service repair needs. We want, just as much as you, to keep your service working as it always has.

After all... IT'S AT&T WE'VE SEPARATED FROM... NOT YOU.

Facts down the line. Because your telephone business office is busily engaged in normal, day-to-day telephone service matters, we are providing this toll-free number as a source for answers to the questions you may have about your changing telephone company. We also suggest that you watch for our informational messages in your newspapers and in your monthly telephone bills. 1 800 555-5000

Wayne swims like contender in Wolverine 'A'

Whether it was in their old (Great Lakes 8) or in their new (Wolverine A) conference, Wayne Memorial continues to field competitive and championship caliber swimming teams.

And veteran Coach Jim McPartlin again has come up with a fine all-around team that has won three of its over-all starts and is 1-0 in the newly-aligned Wolverine Conference.

"We have some good people this year," McPartlin noted, "but this league is tough. There are excellent teams like Monroe and Trenton, and Fordson is always ready to give any title hopeful fits. We're pinning our hopes on a good combination of underclassmen and seniors."

Thus far the Zebras have gotten the job done. Their lone loss was to Cherry Hill, an 89-85 setback, in their season opener. They defeated Lincoln Park, 135-31, in the conference debut and stopped Dearborn Edsel Ford 98-74 and natural rival, Westland John Glenn 94-78.

Wayne is scheduled to resume conference competition at 4 p.m. on Thursday against Fordson where Coach McPartlin says the Fordson's 4-lane pool could hurt his team's chances.

"We have a bit more depth than they do, but when you're counting only the first four places, then obviously we're going to lose some points."

Wayne managed to take six of the 11 events against the Westlanders in a meet where the Zebras' depth again played a pivotal role.

Belleville '5' is no match for Romulus

It was out of the frying pan and into the proverbial boiling waters for Coach Leon Birdyshaw whose Belleville High Tigers had to face a tough Romulus team and an undefeated Wyandotte on consecutive Tuesdays.

"We are a team that can play with intensity," Coach Birdyshaw, "and I believe these kids are improving with each game. We lack the experience and the maturity of the teams we have thus far met, but give us time and we will be ready."

The Tigers will return to Wolverine A Conference action Friday night when they travel to Lincoln Park where they will be looking for their first conference victory.

Against Romulus, Belleville was no match for the Eagles who had control of the boards and the game all the way thanks to sophomore Terry Mills, a 6-8 lanky pivotman who tossed in 23 points, and Grant Long, a rugged forward who collected 20 points for his sweat.

Romulus jumped out in front 21-12 at the end of the first period and held a 39-27 edge at intermission. Coach Al Wilkerson's Eagles built up a 26-point cushion in the second half as they coasted to their fifth win in six starts.

Compare IRAs

Which would you prefer... a higher stated interest rate or more money?

Michigan National compounds interest monthly to pay you more money for your money

Higher stated interest rates on Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) may sound good initially. But, if you're interested in earning more money for your money, consider the effects of Michigan National's monthly compounding of interest versus other banks' simple interest method of payment.

Earn interest on your interest

A minimum deposit of only $50 at Michigan National earns interest each month. So, month by month, year after year you continually earn interest on your interest.

Most other banks, however, pay interest on a simple basis.

No compounding.

No payment of interest on your interest.

That's why other banks can quote a higher rate, and yet, pay less interest over the lifetime of your investment.

Don't be fooled by high interest IRA claims.

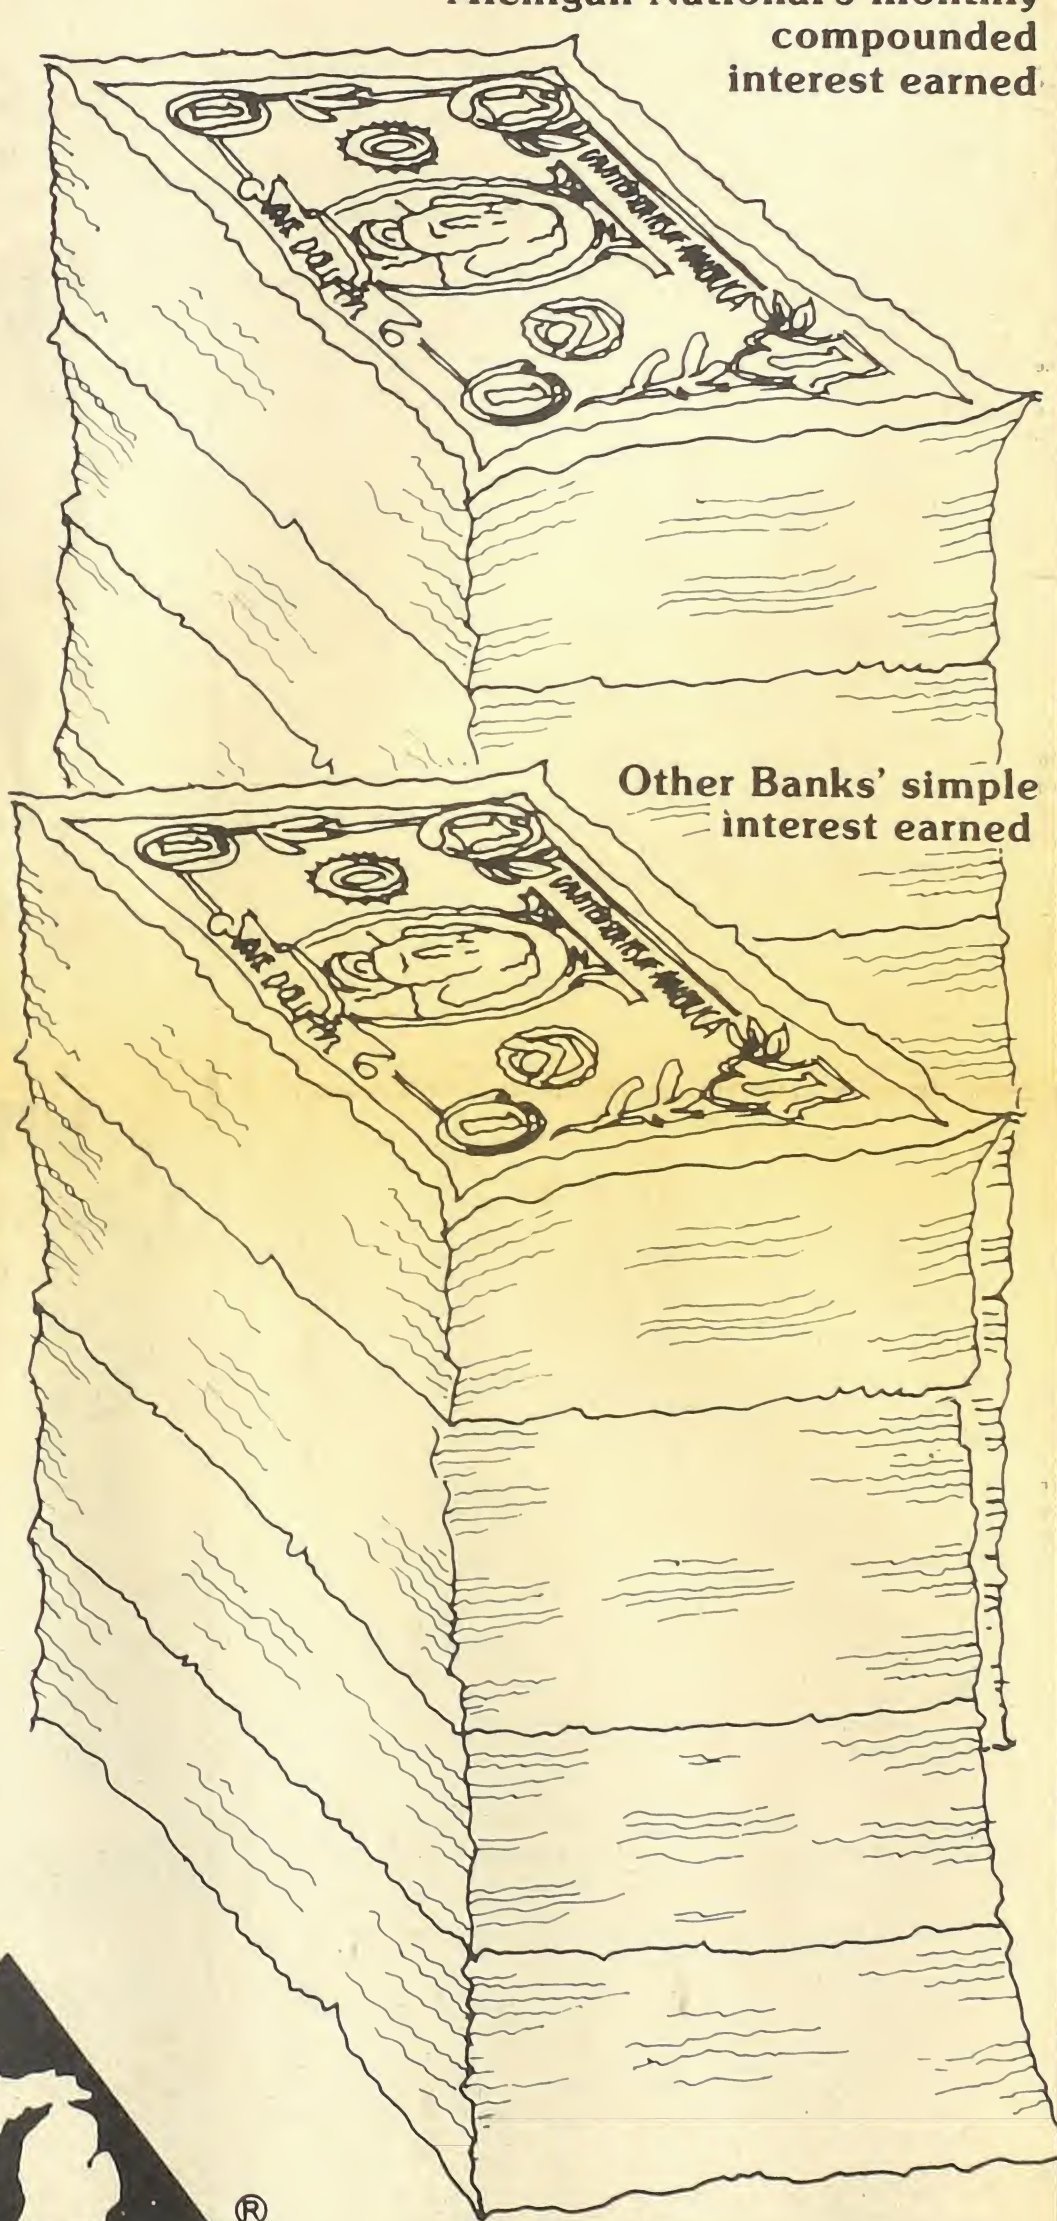

Invest your retirement savings with Michigan National where your IRA will earn more money for your money with monthly compounding.

Need a loan to fund your IRA?

Borrow up to your annual IRA contribution limit at preferred rates to take advantage of 1983 or 1984 tax deductions. Then write off interest payments for an additional tax savings. Ask for details on the advantages of an IRA loan at any branch office.

Michigan National's monthly compounded interest earned

Other Banks' simple interest earned

Michigan National Corporation Banks

Substantial penalties and tax liabilities imposed for withdrawal from IRA prior to age 59½, except in cases of death or disability. Withdrawals must begin by age 70½. Member F.D.I.C.

Michigan's major statewide banking group with over 360 branch offices, offering Michigan's largest ATM network - Michigan Money. Deposits insured up to $100,000 by the FDIC, backed by over $486 million in Depositor Protection Accounts. Total assets exceed $6.7 billion.

Romulus wrestlers capture Riverview tourney title

Coming off an impressive victory at the Riverview High Wrestling Invitational, Romulus and Coach Wayne Schimming are preparing to host their annual tournament.

"We will have some of the better teams in the area here," Schimming pointed out, "and I believe that we will be considered as one of the favorites."

Schimming sees Carlson, Southgate Aquinas, and Dearborn Heights Robichaud as the Eagles' main challengers in a field that will also include Lincoln Park, Northville, Redford Union and Roseville Brabac.

The tournament will be held Saturday (Jan. 14), beginning at 11 a.m. with the preliminaries. The consolation finals and championship rounds will begin about 6 p.m.

There is a $2 per student admission charge for the preliminary rounds and $3 for the entire tournament; adults will be charged $2.50 per session or $4 all day.

Romulus piled up 211 points at the Riverview Tournament to edge out second-place Carlson, which has 119½ points, for the first place trophy. The Eagles received outstanding performances from heavyweight Tracy Cline, Chuck Wilson (119), Bill Garland (115) and Joel Mabelitini (98), who each came away with gold medals.

Mabelitini also earned the "Hustler Award," presented to the wrestler who amasses the most pins in the least amount of time.

"I was concerned

about this tournament because there were a few contending teams that are tough," said Schimming. "Carlson has traditionally come up with some fine wrestlers and teams and to beat them out for the title was a real accomplishment.

"I am also proud of our wrestlers because they competed after a 10-day layoff due to the Christmas Holidays," Schimming concluded.

Calvary to present film series

The Calvary Baptist Church of Romulus will present a series of family films, beginning on January 15 at its church facility, 11338 Ozga Road.

The series, put together by James C. Dobson, will include "The Strong Willed Child." The film will discuss the childish irresponsibilities versus willful defiance and the conflict of wills, child versus parent(s), and the understanding of parental guilt when disciplining children.

For further information, contact the church, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. at 941-0236.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF VAN BUREN NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

Notice is hereby given that the Van Buren Township Planning Commission will hold a Public Hearing on the following amendment to the Zoning Ordinance of 3/1/74. Hearing will be held in the Board Room, 46425 Tyler Road, Van Buren Township, County of Wayne, Belleville, Michigan on Wednesday, the 1st day of February 1984, at 7:00 p.m.

AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE NO. 3-1-74

A. Add a new subsection to Section 20.763 of the Zoning Ordinance (Permitted Uses After Special Approval in a M-2, General Industrial District) to read as follows:

"e. Junk yards, subject to compliance with Ordinance No. _____ Township Junk Yard Ordinance, the provisions of all Township codes and ordinances and safety standards of State and County, and the following requirements which are intended to protect the environment, insure pure air and clean ground water and otherwise protect nearby residential, business, office, industrial and institutional uses from hazards and from noise, dust or other radiated disturbances:

1. Where a junk yard is adjacent to residential, business or office zoned properties or has frontage on a road or highway, a solid masonry obscuring wall, at least eight (8) feet in height, of one (1) uniform color and meeting Township Building Code standards, shall be constructed at least fifty (50) feet* from the side and rear lot lines, and along the required front yard setback line (see Item 2 below). Where a junk yard is adjacent to industrial or airport zoned properties, a masonry wall, as described above, or a solid obscuring fence at least eight (8) feet in height shall be constructed on the side and rear property lines adjacent to said industrial or airport zoned property.

*Equivalent to that for buildings in a M-2 District but less than the 200 foot requirement for open storage yards for construction contractor's equipment and supplies, etc. under Section 20.763, a, and the 100 foot greenbelt requirement for M-2 uses under Section 20.764.

2. Where a junk yard has frontage on a road or highway, the solid masonry wall shall be set back not less than one hundred fifty (150) feet from said road or highway right-of-way or easement line and a twenty (20) foot greenbelt planting strip, composed of evergreen or deciduous trees and shrubs as described in Section 20.360, shall be planted and maintained outside of said wall, except where entrance and exit driveways are located, in order to screen the junk yard activities from the road or highway.

A sales or office building for keeping business records of the junk yard operation is permitted in the setback area noted above provided that front and side setbacks for buildings in a M-2 District are complied with. (See Section 20.852) For junk yard uses, passenger vehicle parking may also be permitted in the required front yard provided such off-street parking is not located with twenty (20) feet of the front lot line. (See also Footnote w, Section 20.852.) Said twenty (20) foot setback shall be landscaped and bermed pursuant to requirements of Section 20.360, GREENBELTS. Such greenbelt may eliminate all or part of the aforementioned greenbelt planting strip requirement adjacent to the solid masonry wall if in the opinion of the Planning Commission, at time of site plan review, sufficient screening is provided.

3. Junk material shall be stored a minimum distance of twenty (20) feet from any industrial or airport zoned property line. Storage of such materials on any site shall not be piled higher than the height of the eight (8) foot masonry wall or fence. A roadway shall be provided, paved, graded and maintained from the street to the rear of the property to permit free access of fire trucks at any time.

4. There shall be no burning of tires, vehicle bodies, wiring, oil or waste products on the site, and all industrial processes, including the use of equipment for cutting, compressing or packaging shall be conducted within a completely enclosed building.

5. All trucks, and other vehicles shall be stored or parked within the required walled or fenced enclosure.

6. All truck loading and unloading shall be performed within the required walled or fenced enclosure.

7. The operator of the junk yard shall be responsible to clean up all debris and junk accidentally deposited on any public right-of-way within one (1) mile of the junk yard site.

8. There shall be compliance with all industrial performance standards as specified under Section 20.766 as well as site plan review requirements under Section 20.767.

B. Add a new entry under Section 20.481, h (off-street parking requirements) to read as follows:

"(36) Junk yards

1 Each owner or manager, plus one (1) space for each employee, plus one (1) space for customer parking for each one half (½) acre for the first five (5) acres of the property, plus an additional space for each additional five (5) acres or part thereof."

C. Amend Section 20.764, Protective Screening, to add the following sentence at end of said Section:

"Screening requirements for junk yards shall be as established under Section 20.763, e."

BILMAR'S Community Cash

Bilmar's invites:

- ★ schools
- ★ churches
- ★ J.C.'s
- ★ Civic Clubs
- ★ Red Cross Chapters

★ And, any other non-profit organization to participate in Community Cash

We want to help

Bilmar's wants to be involved with our community. Especially during these tough economic times when charities and non-profit organizations suffer most. Private groups must provide funding through donations and money making programs or cut back on vital assistance to the needy.

That's why Bilmar's has come up with a plan we think will help. We call it Community Cash, a fund-raising project for any charity or non-profit organization.

Help us help you

We hope you and your fellow members will take advantage of Bilmar's Community Cash program. It's an easy way to get those needed funds and we sincerely want to share Community Cash with each and every one of the many worthy organizations in our community.

Start collecting those green and gold labels today.

How to participate

- Any registered non-profit organization or group in our local area may participate. Register your group's participation at Bilmar's Supermarket, 36521 Goddard Road, Romulus — 942-0420 by January 21, 1984.
- We will redeem any Spartan label for 3¢ apiece. It would be helpful (for you and us) if labels are in clean, good condition, especially labels off perishable products. Try to return full labels in neat condition.
- A minimum of 1,000 labels or $30 worth is required. There is no maximum.
- All labels must be turned in by April 30, 1984. Bring your labels to our Store Manager for verification and a check will be mailed to your organization. Participation in the program will then be terminated.

Your Trade Is Worth More Here... We Will Pay You Top $$$!!!

world of wheels ... by denny campbell

Every now and then you get lucky; you see something worth having a picture of and you have a photographer with you!

Hal McLean, aforementioned snap shot artist, and I were returning from our ARA assignment when we spotted 3-year-old Nicole Warnick trying out Santa's latest great idea — an honest-to-gosh 50cc Suzuki ATV!

Father Russ Warnick was within grabbing distance, but Nicole was motoring down the way with all due care and caution. Some life, huh? I forgot to ask Mrs. Warnick's name, but if either of you or Russ call with your address, I'll send you a copy of the picture. By the way, there's another Russ out there in Eagleland that can see how happy kids are with ATVs...but I agree, yours should buy their own.

And did I mention ARA? Ah yes, we have a project underway! ARA, at 34043 Ford Road in Westland, is the area expert in sunroof installations, cruise control, power windows, electric door locks and even stereo radio installation, as well as "factory installed" appearing air conditioning. Having received a Sky-Trends sunroof from the warehouse of Rosenan Hordes, we approached Jim Ward at ARA about installation.

I mention all this because it is a different sort of sunroof than the flush-roof style that they normally do. Being a game sort of a guy, Jim said if his crew was willing, they'd try anything.

How about "Well, it didn't seem crooked when I cut the hole," or "So what if it's a half inch off center." I mean, these sort of things go through your mind when you see the hole cut in the roof, the headliner hanging down, and both rear windows out of the car.

No amateurs please!

And this is where Jim, Ernie and Kim at ARA really shine. You can't beat experience on something like this. I couldn't believe that anyone could reassemble, fit and clean up a car as they did.

The resultant sunroof is top mounted, providing space for fore and aft sliding motion without encroaching on any head room. The front lip allows air to rise over the leading edge of the roof, preventing any boom or rattling effect at high speed. And the additional air circulation keeps your windows defogged better.

Next: An electronic cruise control installation, also by ARA. I looked at the brochure while I was there and fell in love with the simplicity of the system and the many safeguards built into it. See this one next week!

Tidbits: Kim at ARA happened to have one Sky Trends sunroof — if you fall in love with it, give him a call at ARA, 729-4210. They are very scarce.

Lothar Konietzko, our Eagle Chief Photographer, is going to part with his '81 Escort wagon — four-speed, full power including air, cloth interior — for $2800. Reason? He's fallen for the very beautiful Escort GLX interior. Ford should win a decorator's award for this one.

Lou LaRiche goes Japanese! Subaru is moving into Lou's showroom to fill out his product offerings. A new wing is being added to Lou's showroom at Haggerty and Plymouth Road in Plymouth.

The lights burn into the night at World of Ruttman in Plymouth as they sell all the Yamaha snowmobiles they can get. If you're interested, get over there. See you next week!!!
